Third Floor on the Left is pleased to present ZERESH, commissioned group exhibition that will be open on Thursday, July 26th, 2018, with the participation of: Or Ariely, Tal Engelstein, Omer Halperin, Eliav Leibovitz, Yoni Licht, Yael Sloma and Alexandra Zuckerman.

ZERESH, who is mentioned in the Hebrew Bible in the Book of Esther, is not being referred as a separate entity but as the wife of Haman the Agagite and as a mother of ten. ZERESH advised her husband to prepare a high gallows (50 cubits) and to hang Mordecai on it. This plan was reversed when the king later ordered Haman and his ten sons to be hanged on the same gallows which he had prepared for Mordecai. ZERESH's destiny is unknown, and it is presumed that she has continued to live. The show aims to examine passages between entities or consciousness state of mind. As well as possibilities of evil – What is nature, is there a natural human choice and what is the roll that faith and virtue embodying in amidst of extreme positions.

Third Floor on the Left is a residentially based seasonal project, constructed from several exhibitions and site-specific events, curated and hosted by Meital Aviram.

ZERESH is the 6th show of the project, preceded with Real Time, a group exhibition, Club My Heart, a solo show by Daniel Oksenberg, Chaise-Longue a solo show by Yoav Weinfeld, Half-Life (t<sub>1/2</sub>) a solo show by Tal Granot, as well as a group show titled Dona Victoria, the inaugural exhibition of Third Floor on the Left.
