Third Floor on the Left is pleased to present CLUB MY HEART commissioned project by Daniel Oksenberg. CLUB MY HEART consists of four wood works that are installed in significant architectural intersections of the space, by using a poetic response and interruption.

The images of the works are based on trivial objects that have been collected by the curator which have an emotional charge, and were placed within housewares of the artist. While examining concepts such as accumulation and destruction in conjunction with fortification and failure, the works derive on a range of sculpture, painting as well as theatrical set, in a way that responds and emulates card games strategies and constructs a Tree House or a self-defence structure due to a Tornado.
